Letter from Ed Schreiner, January 2016

President, Fountain Lakes Community Association

Last month I talked about the items for discussion at our November Board of Governors meeting that would be up for publication and, in some cases, up for voting by our residents in the upcoming election cycle. With the Holiday rush, we decided to skip the December meeting and re-convene in January.

Now January is here and I trust we all had a fulfilling holiday period, hopefully with family and friends, and we now begin the focus on a New Year.

All of our Local Associations and the Master Association will be holding elections in the next couple of months. I want to emphasize how important it is to have qualified individuals running for these board seats. It's not good enough to stand on the sidelines and complain (or launch grenades, as I'm prone to say); we need active involvement on the part of our residents in the actual running of the organizations. I employed a philosophy in the various business positions I held during my business career that it is not good enough to just bring problems; I expected some thought would accompany those problems that would contribute to the solution. I believe that works equally well in this environment. I also understand that anyone who sits in these board seats who expects only positive feedback is not being realistic. In fact, the not-so-positive feedback often prompts actions that more quickly improve the overall quality of the operation of the community.

So, seriously consider running for your local board and for the Master Association Board of Governors. There are four Board of Governors board seats up for election to the Master Association this go-around. For your local Association, check your documents to determine what your election cycle is and which candidate seats are open this year. I challenge you to get involved.

Winter Safety Tips from Estero Fire Rescue

Submitted by Susan Lindenmuth, Public Relations Manager

Welcome to a new year! Now that the holidays are over and we look forward to the promise of 2016, we can enjoy the beautiful winter weather that Southwest Florida is famous for. Cool, crisp evenings and warm sunshine during the day. Many of our winter visitors will tell you they much prefer this than shoveling snow...and who could blame them. Many people will be enjoying the outdoors but with the beautiful weather come a few safety concerns.

More and more people are using outdoor fireplaces and chimenea than ever before. It is important to always remember than anytime you work with fire there is a chance of losing control of it or getting burned. If you are considering the purchase of one, always be aware of any regulations governing their use and any special considerations connected with a device with the potential for fire.

Under current Florida State Fire Code, the use of outdoor fireplaces and chimenea are legal for use in single family dwellings. Even though these devices are legal, there are certain restrictions that apply to their use. These restrictions include:

- Any situation where the smoke from one of these devices is objectionable or offensive to the community.
- Using one of these devices for the disposal of waste or trash.
- The use of one of these devices when it is left unattended for any period of time.
- The use of one of these devices in a manner that is contrary to its intended use or manufacture's instructions.

General Safety

In addition to code requirements, if you plan to use outdoor fireplaces & chimenea, you should be aware of the general fire safety precautions for these devices. These practices include:

- DO NOT use any of these outdoor devices inside your home.
- These units are not intended as a primary heating source.
- Locate the device at least fifteen (15) feet away from any structure.
- Maintaining three (3) feet of clearance from any combustible material or item.
- Do not use during a high wind condition.
- Using some type of non combustible surface underneath to catch sparks, dropping coals, embers or ashes, i.e. a metal drop pan.
- Never use gasoline, kerosene, starter fluids or any other substance that may create a rapid build-up of fire.
- Properly dispose of the ashes once the fire is out. Allow them to cool for 48 hours before disposing, otherwise, douse with plenty of water and NEVER place them in plastic, paper, or wooden containers, only metal.

Keep in mind that this beautiful weather brings with it a lower humidity level and increased risk of brushfires. The National Weather Service in Miami predicts that, if the present trends hold, south Florida will experience below normal rainfall during the dry season, which extends from now into May. Be very careful when disposing of materials from these devices or items such as barbeque grills. Also take care when disposing of cigarettes as they can start brushfires when discarded carelessly from vehicles.

If you have any questions on this or any other topics, contact Susan Lindenmuth, Public Relations Manager at (239) 390-8000 or visit our website at www.esterofire.org and click on Safety Encyclopedia.
